ROCHÉ SOFT PASTELS

Degas' favorite pastels can now be yours!

Roché pastels are one of the best kept secrets of the pastel world. Until now, Roché pastels were only available from a little shop in Paris. They have been compared to playing a Stradivarius. Handmade since 1720, these exquisite pastels have been used by an impressive list of pastelists, including Degas, Sisley and Whistler. Greatly prized, many contemporary painters have made it a point to purchase them when in Paris. We can save you the airfare.

The slightest stroke produces just a whisper of color, and with a little more pressure, can create an intense color that won't overpower previous layers. Other brands would require you to obscure your underpainting and sacrifice transparency with several strokes of their pastel just to achieve the same look.

ART SPECTRUM SOFT PASTELS

We offer the entire range of these professional, German made soft pastels. Their extreme softness and color strength is achieved by Schmincke's very traditional formulation. Their color range includes 400 colors! Schmincke offers 77 pure colors and then mixes each pure color with black artist pigment for a rich, deep tone and to achieve their lighter pastel tints they also mix each pure color with three levels of white artist pigment, each graduation lighter than the previous mixture. To round out their line, they also offer 15 rich colors consisting of special darks, lights, metallics and 10 mixtures of white with neutral gray.

Sennelier has been a famous name with a tradition of quality products since 1887. Sennelier achieves their softness by drying them in the traditional way; in the open air for up to four weeks. Sennelier's selection begins with pure pigments chosen for their intensity and light-fastness. These colors are then tinted up to ten graduations per color producing one of the widest ranges available in the world. Sennelier is one of our most popular pastels due to its uniform softness and incredible range. Still manufactured by hand in the French tradition of the 1800s.

DIANE TOWNSEND SOFT PASTELS

Diane Townsend began making her own pastels in 1972 when she found that the colors she observed in nature were not available. She makes a beautiful range from the deepest darks to pastels that are so pale, they literally have just a whisper of color.

Soft Form pastels have a very soft consistency, dense covering power and tinting strength, as well as clarity, depth, and incredible richness. They are made in small batches using the best pigments, bronze powders, and pearlescent powders available with no fillers or extenders added. Very little has been done to alter the natural pigment color. Each pigment has different qualities, therefore the pastels may vary in consistency, from soft to firm, from smooth and buttery to dry and powdery. Diane uses very little binder to hold the pigment together. Some colors have a surface "skin" that yields to reveal the soft pastel within. Sandpaper will help get these newer pastels started.

We offer another handmade pastel formulated with pumice. Diane Townsend originally created these pastels to eliminate the need for fixative. Terrages Pastels are made with extra fine pumice to allow it to "bite" into the surface of the paper and provide a base coat. This base coat provides a surface similar to a sanded pastel paper, even on smoother papers. The pumice base coat allows an artist to apply multiple top layers of softer pastels. Available in a beautiful range of 177 colors, shapes and sizes will vary but average around 1-3/8" x 1" x 3/8". The addition of pumice makes them very sturdy and ideal for large scale works.

Thin Line pastels are similar in texture to the Terrages pastels. They are made with extremely fine pumice in the pastel binder and pigment mixture; so that each stroke of pastel will literally bite into your paper. They are not gritty; they are very smooth and velvety- just made with a different pastel base. These sticks are thinner and just a touch longer than the other pastel lines by Diane.

Due to the handmade nature of Diane's pastels, color, shape, and size may vary from shipment to shipment.

UNISON SOFT PASTELS

Unison pastels are the creation of artist John Hersey. From a converted coach house in Northumberland, England, skilled artisans lovingly make Unison pastels by hand, cutting no corners, accepting no compromise. The make small batches of 100 to 200 pastels at a time. Each stick is hand rolled and allowed to air dry. This produces a soft pastel which is eager to embrace the tooth of your drawing paper. There is a richness, a smoothness, an intensity you will find nowhere else. John Hersey developed Unison's color scheme in unified cycles of 18 colors. After 15 years of experimentation, his pastels reflect the true nature of color. Unison pastels are a work of art themselves!

The surface features an off white waterproof coating with a white aluminum oxide abrasive for an incredible texture that will accept up to 25 layers of soft pastels. This Professional Grade paper uses a cardstock which is neutral pH and acid free and has an archival rating of 300 years.
